Understanding funeral costs and your options

There are generally three main components associated with the cost of a funeral.

01 Professional Service & Transfer Fee

02 Disbursements (Required Costs & Third Party Fees)

03 GST (Tax)

Before exploring pricing, here are the three main paths families choose. Each is designed to honour your loved one in a way that feels right for you.

A Traditional Funeral Service

A gathering held at our chapel, a church or a venue of your choice, followed by burial or cremation. Includes time for tributes, music, and reflection with family and friends present.

A Memorial or Graveside Service

A service held without the coffin present, or at the graveside itself. Often chosen when families wish to gather in a more intimate or specific setting.

A Direct Cremation

A simple, dignified cremation without a formal service. A meaningful option for families wanting privacy, simplicity and a more cost effective option.

Funeral Pricing Examples

Example One - Funeral Service

"Mum has passed away in a nursing home and we would like to arrange a funeral service and viewing in your chapel. Following the service, we would like a private cremation. Mum's sons would like to carry her coffin from the chapel to the hearse. We would also like a photo presentation, 50 Order of Service Booklets, floral tribute, memorial book, music, and the service to be live streamed and recorded for family members interstate and overseas. Example Two - Basic Funeral Service

“Dad has passed away at the Sunshine Hospital and we would like to have a simple service in your Chapel because that is where Mum’s service was. We don’t want to have a viewing, any printing, a photo presentation, or flowers. We don’t want to carry or wheel dad out to the hearse we would like close the curtains to end the service to Dad’s favourite song. Dad said he didn’t want much of a fuss so keep things basic. He wasn’t religious so we would like a celebrant to conduct the service and he would like his golf clubs to sit on his coffin. Dad liked a beer, so my sister has organised to go after the service to the local hotel to raise a glass for him”.
